

A frequently asked question from new mentors (and even experienced ones) is “What should we do together?” Especially in school-based programs many mentors struggle to come up with ideas and activities. The PAL Program of Rogers County Volunteers for Youth offers a tool for just this purpose. Called “Tickets to Friendship”, this perforated ticket book offers a year’s worth of weekly friendship-building activities. Use it at mentor-mentee meetings by encouraging the mentee to choose an activity for the day and/or choose one for the next meeting date. The activities are appropriate for all school-aged students and both genders. The tickets are perforated for easy removal from the ticket book and blank ones are provided at the back of the book to encourage creativity. This remarkable resource will add new life to existing relationships and help new ones off to a great start. The mentee will immediately feel they have some control over the relationship helping them feel more confident and involved. The mentor will love having a tool that helps them build the friendship.
